March 2021

Our staff having a dance party while listening to our favorite tunes!

ACTIVITY OF THE MONTH

Name That Tune!

With Employee Appreciation Day coming up on March 5th, take some time to appreciate your team with some fun and easy to facilitate games during the work day. A great one to implement for an in-person or virtual meeting is "Name That Tune". For this activity, play short snippets of songs and challenge participants to try to guess correctly!

WHAT'S GOING ON IN THE WORLD

While summer is great and winter can be a lot of fun, for many the best season of the year is Awards Season. Each year, fans of the entertainment industry eagerly await the announcements of nominees and the celebrations of award winners in creative fields like film, television, music, and theater.

While this excitement usually peaks in January or February, COVID-related shutdowns and slowdowns across the entertainment industry have delayed the process and March is beginning to see a bit more of this year's award show buzz.

With the Golden Globes having just taken place, the Grammys airing later this month, and Oscar nominations being announced shortly after that, this is the perfect time to take a closer look at awards season and see what lessons we can learn from it as educators and as team members...
