ACTIVITY OF THE MONTH

You're A Star!

As we approach the end of the academic year, it's important to give a proper closing to the groups we are members of. As a part of this process, it can be nice to engage in activities that remind our fellow group members why they shine. "You're A Star" accomplishes this by providing individuals a simple and straightforward structure for sharing positive qualities that their group members embody.

MUSIC, MEMORIES, & MORE

I'll admit that when I was envisioning myself in my last semester of college just four years ago, I didn't expect to be doing it all from home in the midst of a global pandemic. And I'd be lying if I said the whole situation didn't at times take the wind out of my sails and affect my desire to celebrate. However! Whether you are finishing up your last days of middle school, wrapping up high school, getting ready to gain work experience, attend the college of your dreams, or maybe you're like me and...

REIMAGINING "NORMAL"

If I could define this past year using one word, it would be resilience. Since early 2020, we individually and collectively have had to overcome so many obstacles. Our lives were flipped upside down by a global pandemic. Many of our worlds shifted to a virtual context with little to no notice, and those who are essential workers showed up for their communities day after day. Our normal ways of coping - whether it be going out to eat, meeting up with friends or...

WHAT'S GOING ON IN THE WORLD

May presents us with so many opportunities to celebrate the people in our lives. Hardly a week can go by this month without finding a holiday or event that allows us to focus on a particular part of our community.

For celebrating the family members who are important to us, we have Mother's Day and International Day of Families. If we want to respect and remember those who are no longer with us, we have Memorial Day and Harvey Milk Day. We have holidays to recognize people who fill important roles in our communities, such as National Teacher Appreciation Day and National Nurses Day. We can connect to our religious and ethnic communities through celebrating Asian American and Pacific Islander Heritage Month, Ramadan for Muslims, Shavuot for Jews, or Pentecost for Christians. There are so many opportunities to highlight and appreciate the people around us.
